1. Introduction to Auténtica Premium Food 2026

The food industry gathers at Auténtica to present its most distinctive authentic foods and beverages to the mass distribution, retail, specialty stores, hospitality, fine dining, and importers.

ORIGIN, QUALITY PRODUCT, HEALTH, SUSTAINABILITY are some of the values promoted by AUTÉNTICA to promote the essence of quality food and beverages. AUTÉNTICA is the creative space that unites the food industry and gastronomy with other professional disciplines such as science, creativity, philosophy, health, arts, journalism or technology among others.

Auténtica is the platform for social thinking, the laboratory for experimentation, the space in which large-scale distribution, the retail sector, gastronomy and the food industry mix with other prominent leaders of our society, to contribute to developing a new social conscience through food and to promote the Mediterranean diet.

Take the Auténtica stage with more than 350 experts and share your visión, ideas, products and trends with more than 12,000 profesionales from the distribution, retail, supermarkets, wholesalers, hospitality and gastronomic chefs

2. Purpose of the Call for Speakers

We are looking for purchasing managers, line managers, sustainability and ESG managers, supply chain managers, innovation managers, producers, chefs, hoteliers, appellations of origin, gourmet shop owners, distributors, entrepreneurs, research centres, universities, public organisations, journalists, professionals and gourmet product lovers who, within a multidisciplinary and innovative forum, want to contribute knowledge and formulas for success in one of the following categories.

We are looking for restless, curious, innovative people, people who want to establish a new dialogue between gastronomy, the food industry and the distribution sector, to promote a new social awareness of the Mediterranean diet, extolling the product, its origin, the sustainability of ecosystems and its essence.

3. Topics

Product and Mediterranean Diet

The product and the Mediterranean diet, a rising value in society. Designations of Origin, a guarantee of quality. Our roots; the importance of recovering traditional recipes and products in danger of extinction. Peoples, civilisations, history and art in the kitchen. Everyday gastronomy and festive gastronomy.

Purchasing and Supply Chain

Perspectives and challenges in the current economic and geopolitical situation. Management and optimisation of the value chain. Logistics efficiency. Relations with suppliers. Automation and robotics. Digitalisation and blockchain in processes and operations. Sustainability. Consumer demands that affect the supply chain. Logistics of the future.

Sustainability

How can we meet the needs of the current generation without sacrificing the capacity of future generations? Local products, organic production, plant-based diet, circular economy, the effects of climate change on the plate, food waste management...

Communication and Marketing

Marketing strategies around the Mediterranean diet. How to improve the customer experience. Promotion and dissemination of gastronomic products through the media, social networks, influencers and other channels.

New Trends in Retail

Delicatessen shops, premium offer in supermarkets, select corners in service areas and airports. Quality and large consumers of gourmet products. Offline and online retailers. Digital sales platforms.

New Trends in the Horeca market

Catering groups and new disruptive concepts. Product excellence, the hallmark of quality in hotels. Is delivery suitable for everything? The fifth gamma is flooding the Horeca market. Are dark kitchens on the back burner? Supply management, digitalisation, robotisation and the role of AI.

Innovation in the Distribution Channel

How do we address the delicate situation of the Primary Sector? How do we adapt to new consumer trends? Technology applied to distribution; digitalisation, AI, robotics... Omni-channeling is already a reality. Central purchasing units, a solution for everything and everyone? Block-chain, the solution to fraud?
